Friends' peak performance raises funds for good cause

By Matthew Brown

A GROUP of hardy Basingstoke school friends have completed the gruelling Three Peaks Challenge – all without any training between them.

Alistair Brown trekked up the three highest mountains in the UK with 10 pals in 30 hours.

The group, most of whom know each other from Richard Aldworth School and Kempshott Junior School, took part in the challenge that involves scaling Mount Snowdon in Wales (1,085 metres), Scafell Pike in England (978m) and Ben Nevis in Scotland (1,345m), in aid of Sebastian's Action Trust.

Unfortunately extreme weather conditions on Ben Nevis, traffic and some injuries prevented the lads from completing it within their 24 hour goal, but they still wrapped it up in an impressive 30 hours.

It is even more spectacular as they had not done a single bit of training between them.

"It was mentally and physically gruelling and by far the most difficult thing any of us have ever done," said Alistair.

"Our bodies are in absolute bits!"

"All of us are extremely proud of ourselves for accepting and completing this challenge and what makes it even more worth the while was that we managed to raise £1,540 which is astonishing," Alistair added.

"I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone again for making their generous donations."

The climbers take a quick breather and stop to have their picture taken

Alongside Alistair were Alex Pickering, Adam Pickering, Tony Pickering, James Horsfield, Robbie Wearing (organiser), Ben Barham, Darren Barham, Chris Jones, Aidy

Smith and Mark Adams.

The lads decided to do the Three Peaks to fundraise for Sebastian's Action Trust, which offers help to families of seriously-ill children.

The family of a friend who passed away last year had always supported the Trust and Alistair and friends decided that they would continue that support.

A spokeswoman for Sebastian's Action Trust said: "All of us at the Trust are so grateful to Alistair and his friends for undertaking such an amazing challenge.

"We carry out our work supporting families of seriously ill children without a penny of government funding, so fundraising endeavours like this really do make a big difference to us and to our families."

Visitors take pride in their area thanks to Jane benches

By Matthew Brown

MORE than 16,000 visitors have been to north Hampshire thanks to the Sitting With Jane bookbench project.

The outdoor art portfolio, which features 24 brightly coloured bookbenches mainly scattered around Basingstoke and Deane, has turned the borough into an accessible art gallery that celebrates Jane Austen's life in and around north Hampshire.

It ends today and thanks to a special app, 16,000 visits to bookbenches have been recorded with visitors coming from far and wide.

Sitting with Jane has helped Basingstoke become part of the global celebration of the novelist and the bicentenary of her death this year.

There is one last opportunity to see the benches after today at a special farewell event at Milestones Museum on September 9 and 10, where visitors can see them all together under one roof.

After this, 22 of them will be up for grabs at a charity auction on September 15 at the Ark Conference Centre where 75 per cent of the proceeds will go to the Ark Cancer Charity.

The auction is being organised by fine art auctioneers Andrew Smith and Son.

Merv Rees, Ark Cancer Centre Charity trustee, said: "Sitting With Jane has attracted a great deal of attention locally, nationally and internationally - and now the charity auction is set to provide a grand and fitting final chapter to this wonderful event."

"Hopefully, each of the bookbenches will raise several thousand pounds, which will make a significant difference to Ark's campaign to help fund the new cancer treatment centre."

"If a business wants to support Ark, leave a lasting legacy, and own a unique piece of Jane Austen 200 history, then buying a bookbench is a great way to achieve all of these goals."

Tickets to the auction cost £10, and include a welcome drink and auction catalogue.

In order to bid for one of the BBC MasterChef 2016 winner and Ark Cancer Centre Charity supporter Jane Devonshire with some of the Ark to Arc cyclists and one of the bookbenches that will be auctioned on September 15 bookbenches, potential bidders must complete the online registration before the event by going to arkcancercharity.org/fundraising/sitting-jane, where there are also details on other aspects of the auction.

Crackdown warns: Be aware of bikes at junctions

HAMPSHIRE Police has been taking part in a national crackdown to reduce the number of motorcyclists killed on the roads.

Motorcyclists make up just one per cent of the total traffic on roads, yet they account for 21 per cent of all road deaths.

In 2016, there were 737 collisions involving motorcyclists on Hampshire's roads, resulting in 768 casualties, including nine fatalities.

Hotspots for incidents around the county include the M3 between junctions 11 and 10 and junctions seven and four and the A34 between the M3 and A33 junction.

Motorcycle patrols have been stepped up this week with officers engaging both drivers and riders to promote the message that one extra look at a junction could save a life.

Road safety sergeant Rob Heard said: "Many collisions with motorcycles occur at junctions and we all need to make sure we look out for approaching motorcycles, which may merge into the background as they approach."

"Motorists just need to give themselves a little extra time to look out for motorcycles, while riders need to make sure they ride safely and not take unnecessary risks.

"This is not about us targeting one group of road users, we are simply reminding people of the potential dangers and hope that both riders and motorists will look out for each other."

Older people can ask Alexa for care help in their home

PEOPLE can now just "ask Alexa" to help them live independently in their homes for longer, thanks to a groundbreaking scheme between Hampshire County Council and Amazon.

The authority has become the first in the country to test the Amazon Echo technology to support older people needing care.

It is based around a voice-activated home speaker that uses wi-fi and bluetooth connectivity, powered by the Alexa software.

Users can simply "ask Alexa" to remind them about tasks such as taking medication or check when their carer is due to arrive.

Cllr Liz Fairhurst, the county council's executive member for adult social care and health, said: "We are looking to trial this new technology with 50 adult social care clients in Hampshire, to help support and manage their needs within their own homes and avoid the need for additional care packages."

"This is a world first for Hampshire County Council and our care technology partners."

"Working directly with Amazon will ensure our trial is backed by the experience of one of the biggest internet-based retailers in the world."

"We are very excited about the possibilities this project could open up in the future, and its potential to benefit the future of social care."

The technology is hoped to be in testers' homes by the end of the year with the project running throughout 2018.

Music and motors rev up

By Matthew Brown

PEACEFUL countryside around Overton was turned into a sea of colour and noise as CarFest roared in.

Olly Murs, Jess Glynne, Busted, Mel C, Tom Odell and the Kaiser Chiefs were just some of the big names performing on the main stage at Laverstoke Park Farm, wowing thousands over the bank holiday weekend.

CarFest fused music with cars and some of the fastest and coolest supercars from Britain, USA, Japan, France, Germany and Italy were also on show, taking part in the 'Car Nations' track sprint.

There was also spectacular stunt action including a self-donutting car and a performance from the Red Arrows.

As well as the music and cars, people got messy with the world's biggest custard pie fight, tried out super skills in the Super Hero Academy and were served treats by Bake Off winner Candice Brown.

CarFest is the branch of BBC star Chris Evans and has raised millions for Children in Need.

Mel C entertained the crowds, as did the Red Arrows display team

Firms struggle to find recruits

By Adam Flinn

BUSINESSES in north Hampshire could be finding it difficult to hire the right employees because of falling unemployment levels in the region.

That is the view of the M3 Job Club, after the latest unemployment figures for July showed there had been a 54 per cent drop in the number of people claiming Jobseekers Allowance in the last five years in Basingstoke and Deane.

Just over 1,000 people claimed the benefit in the borough in July.

Employment levels across the country are at a record high 75.01 per cent, with the number of people not in work at its lowest rate since 1975.

Richard Thayer, chairman and founder of the M3 Job Club, said: "We tend to find there's companies struggling to find the right people."

"If you look at the Basingstoke area, the unemployment rate is probably under one per cent."

"We know of a number of companies who are looking for the right skilled people, particularly when it comes to small and medium-sized enterprises, they are finding it difficult."

"So we're trying to let them know that there are a number of skilled people who are around, who have

One of the coaching sessions run by the Basingstoke-based M3 Job Club got the right ethics and just want to get back into work."

Around 35 professional people currently attend the weekly coaching-led sessions run by the job club.

The M3 Job Club, which is based in Basingstoke, helps those out of work or at risk of redundancy to connect with businesses in need of skilled staff.

Mr Thayer added: "Basingstoke is going through quite a transformation with a lot of new buildings coming through or being developed, and obviously we've got companies who are looking for particular talents."

"There have been people who are considering moving to this area because there's more opportunities coming up, so we're trying to attract more into this area."

"People are more flexible and looking for more opportunities, and that's quite interesting to see how businesses are responding and what they're trying to do to attract new candidates."

Can you solve mystery of injured man?

POLICE are appealing for information as they try to work out how a man found with serious injuries to his head, legs and hands in a Basingstoke street was harmed.

The 21-year-old man was discovered in Westray Close, Oakridge at 10.44pm last Wednesday.

He was taken to the North Hampshire Hospital in Basingstoke to be treated, where his injuries were said not to be life threatening.

At this stage, Hampshire Constabulary is linking the incident to a robbery a few hours later at around 1.25am.

A 16-year-old boy and 46-year-old woman were walking between Churchill Way and Sinclair Drive when they were assaulted by an unknown man and had a handbag stolen.

Neither victim suffered any serious injury. The man was described as being around 5ft 10ins, and was wearing dark clothing.

Anyone with any information relating to either incident is asked to contact the police non-emergency number 101.

Hard work pays off for 'Stoke's GCSE students

By Matthew Brown

AFTER two years of hard work, Basingstoke students can relax now they know their GCSE results.

Amidst tough times at Fort Hill Community School in Winklebury, 47 per cent of pupils gained a four or more (equivalent of a C and above).

This is the penultimate cohort of students to get their GCSE results at Fort Hill following a decision in June to close the school and amalgamate it with Cranbourne Business and Enterprise College from September.

Only last year's year 10 students will remain at the Kenilworth Road school to complete their GCSEs, with the rest transferring to Cranbourne.

A star performer at Fort Hill

Sherfield School's Rachel Walker with head of English John Sentance-Davis was Alan Philip, who achieved 11 grades at A*-A.

"I am extremely proud of the achievements of all of our students," said acting headmistress Vicky Essex.

"Our success has been grounded in the community spirit fostered at the school, the dedication of our staff and the unstinting support of our parents.

"I would like to wish our year 11 students every success in the future."

At Sherfield School, pupils

there registered the school's best ever GCSE results.

A massive 92 per cent of pupils achieved five grades A* to C, with just under 50 per cent of all grades rated A*-A and 78 per cent all achieving grade B or higher.

Rachel Walker was one of those who shone, earning the prestigious grade nine (equivalent to an outstanding A* star) in both English language and literature, alongside six A*s.

Headmaster Nicholas Fisher said: "These are the school's best ever GCSE results, and they are a great tribute to the hard work of all the teaching staff during this transition towards more competitive exams."

"I am delighted that the pupils have risen to the challenges that these exams posed."

Over at The Costello School, headteacher Leigh Adams hailed their results as "one of the best set of outcomes in the recent history of the school" as 66 per cent achieved grades A* to C (9-4).

He paid tribute to the hard work of the students as well as the teaching and non-teaching staff.

Mr Adams added: "On a wide note, I am delighted for all students across Basingstoke who have worked incredibly hard this year and are now able to go onto to their preferred post-16 destination."

Peter Edgar, Hampshire County Council's executive member for education, said: "I would like to congratulate Hampshire's GCSE pupils on their hard work and achievement."

"Even with the more rigorous standards, our indications are that young people in Hampshire have achieved good results and the vast majority will be going on to further study or training with a good set of qualifications under their belts."

Fort Hill's Alan Philip achieved 11 top grades

New GCSE grades explained:

- The new numbered grades have only been used for English language, English literature and maths for this year
- They rank from nine (the highest grade) to one (the lowest grade), with U remaining as 'ungraded'
- Nine and eight can be considered the equivalent to an A* in the old system
- Seven to four cover the old A-C grades, with three, two and one reflective of a D, E, F or G
- The numbered system will gradually be introduced across all GCSE subjects, with them all expected to have made the switch in two years time

Cancer test kit saved my life, says retired rector

By Matthew Brown

RETIRED rector Michael Kenning is urging people not to ignore the symptoms of bowel cancer after being given "a second chance at life".

Michael, a former rector of Steventon and who now accompanies the Tadley Singers on the piano, underwent life-saving surgery at Basingstoke Hospital after being diagnosed with the cancer in late 2015.

"When you're told you have cancer, it's scary," he said in a letter thanking his consultant surgeon Sanjeev Dayal.

"But after surgery you feel you have been given a second chance at life."

The 70-year-old had suffered from bouts of irritable bowel syndrome (IBS) in the past but was unaware of any symptoms that could suggest bowel cancer, especially after completing a home test every two years from the age of 60 and being given the all-clear from them.

However he noticed a change in bowel habits towards the end of 2015 and went to see his doctor after initially thinking that the IBS had returned.

Another test was carried

Michael Kenning says he's been given a second chance at life out that confirmed the cancer and within 48 hours, Michael found himself at Basingstoke Hospital.

He said: "Thank goodness I carried out the test – they are life-saving and anybody who receives one through the post and throws them away is very foolish. Don't let the absence of symptoms such as pain, exhaustion, poor appetite and weight loss mislead you into believing there's nothing seriously wrong."

A CT scan revealed a growth on the colon and Michael had surgery to remove it.

He added: "Even though the signs were there, it was a still a shock to find out I had cancer – I couldn't believe it."

The operation went ahead and Michael was full of praise for the care he received:

"The bowel cancer nurses were extremely vigilant and on hand to help me, especially when times got tough."

"I can honestly say that I wasn't anxious or upset at any time throughout my hospital care, I felt so supported by the staff and visitors."

Michael is now enjoying life again – whether it be walking the dogs with wife Valerie or getting away to France on holiday – he is back to his best.

Anyone with blood in their waste or bleeding from their bottom, a change in bowel habits, weight loss, extreme tiredness or tummy pain are urged to see their GP as soon as possible.

Sarah Crane, chief executive of the Pelican Cancer Foundation, said: "Don't be embarrassed and don't ignore symptoms."

"Doctors are used to seeing people with bowel problems and it could save your life."

Make sure to secure your vote

BASINGSTOKE and Deane residents who want to vote are being encouraged to make sure they are on the electoral register.

Forms from the borough council's electoral registration office are being sent out to homes, asking residents to update or confirm that their details are correct on the electoral register as part of an annual update.

Melbourne Barrett, the borough council's electoral registration officer, said: "Anyone that wants to vote must be registered."

"To make sure you have your say in the elections next year, simply check the form when it arrives and respond as promptly as possible."

"Doing this online, by text or phone at any time of day or night is the quickest and easiest way."

To ensure the electoral register is up to date, identify anyone who is not registered and delete those who have left the property. The household enquiry form is sent annually to properties.

Even if there are no changes to make, information must still be provided by residents.

For more information, call the council on 01256 844844.

RAF seven set out on cycle

SEVEN cyclists from RAF Odiham were due to jump into the saddle to cycle 70 miles for charity today.

Dean Pyle, Alex Hughes, Stuart Crichton, Chris Cubitt, Lee Cunnick, Tom Hukin and Kay Edwards, from the Survival Equipment Section, are fundraising for the RAF Benevolent Fund by cycling the Basingstoke Canal from Odiham to Addlestone and back.

Corporal Pyle said: "Every year Survival Equipment hold a charity event.

"We wanted to raise money for the RAF Benevolent Fund – it feels like the perfect way to give a little back to a great charity that recognises what the RAF do, and the stress our jobs can cause."

Cpl Pyle added: "We hope the money will go towards helping more serving personnel and veterans with any problems they may come up against. If our fundraising enables the Benevolent Fund to help even one person, we will feel like we achieved what we set out to do."

The group, who are aged between 23 and 33, are responsible for the repair, rectification and modification of all survival equipment including life rafts, harnesses and helmets.

Heather Kemp, regional fundraiser for the RAF Benevolent Fund, said: "Those based at RAF Odiham have constantly shown support. How Dean and the team have found the time to train for this challenge is beyond me, but we are very grateful for their dedication."

The team has been training hard for the ride

Rail fare increases are 'out of line with tight family budgets'

By Matthew Brown

RAIL fare increases set to be imposed on hard-pressed commuters in January are a 'bitter blow'.

The leader of Basingstoke and Deane's Liberal Democrat group, councillor Gavin James, has hit out at the rise in ticket prices from Basingstoke to London.

South Western Railway's (SWR) services to Waterloo will face the biggest rise in fares for five years with a hike of 3.6 per cent, meaning an annual season ticket from Basingstoke to Waterloo will cost £4,463, up £155 on the 2017 price of £4,308.

"The steep hike to rail fares will be a bitter blow for passengers from Basingstoke and across Hampshire struggling with overcrowded trains," he said

"The UK already has some of the most expensive rail fares in the world.

"A one-month season ticket from Basingstoke to London Waterloo is currently £410 a month, £488 if you include underground travel. Another £15 or so a month will hit already squeezed family budgets hard.

"It would be easier to accept these increases if there was evidence that this money will be invested in improving infrastructure rather than just lining the pockets of train companies."

Rail fares for season tickets are set by government, not by train companies such as SWR.

Paul Plummer, chief executive of the Rail Delivery Group – which brings together train companies and Network Rail to improve the railway – said: "Money from fares pays to run and improve the railway, making journeys better, boosting the economy, creating skilled jobs and supporting communities across Britain, and politicians set increases to season tickets.

"It's also the case that major industry costs rise directly in line with RPI (Retail Price Index, that measures the change in cost of a sample of retail goods and services).

"Rail companies are working together to improve performance now, adding thousands more seats over the next 18 months and, longer term, simplifying fares and ticket buying so that the county has the railway it needs to prosper."

SWR said it does not set season ticket fares only the price of regular train tickets.

Students nail cash for charity

IT'S not everyday you get to paint the mayoress of Basingstoke's nails.

But that's what happened when Cllr Jane Frankum visited a coffee morning which had been organised by a group of students.

As part of their National Citizen Scheme programme, the students, aged between 16 and 17, organised the coffee morning at Cliddesden Church Hall in aid of Basingstoke NeighbourCare that was also attended by mayor Paul Frankum.

They also organised a sponsored triathlon at the Hampshire Court Hotel and a quiz night at Spotlight in Popley, raising a total of £1,600 for the charity.

The students worked as a team to select their events, book the venues, obtain prizes and manage the events that made up the social action phase of the NCS where they had to fundraise and make a difference.

They chose to support Basingstoke NeighbourCare because they are 'passionate about the elderly and feel they should feel involved and cared for'.

The charity enables people to stay independent and in their own homes and provides volunteers to assist clients, most of whom are elderly or disabled.

Keep your mobile in the glove box, county warns motorists

By Matthew Brown

HAMPSHIRE County Council has thrown its weight behind a national campaign highlighting the dangers of using a mobile phone while driving.

The national THINK! campaign encourages motorists to put their phones in the glove box or risk a £200 fine and six penalty points on a driving licence - introduced earlier this year in March.

If the offence is deemed to be so bad or the fixed penalty

notice for £200 is refused, then there is potential for court action which could result in large fines - the maximum being £1,000 or £2,500 if driving a bus or goods vehicle.

Rob Humby, the county council's executive member of environment and transport, said: "People are four times more likely to be in a crash if they use their mobile phone while driving.

"All drivers need to give their full attention to the roads at all times, or the consequences can be severe.

"Safety must come first for everyone on our roads, and calls and text messages can wait."

It is illegal to use a handheld mobile when driving, which includes using a phone to follow a map, read a text or social media.

This also applies even when stopped at traffic lights or queuing in traffic.

When supervising a learner driver, it is also illegal to use a phone.

Reaction times are two times slower if you text and drive and if you drink drive this increases to three times when using a handheld phone behind the wheel.

Even careful drivers can be distracted by a call or text and a split-second lapse in concentration could result in a crash.

The advice from the AA is to stop or leave the call to voicemail - even if you have a hands-free phone.

If you must talk and have a hands-free phone, keep conversations short and simple or say that you'll find a safe and legal place to stop and phone back.

Buy-to-let purchases increase as extra taxes fail to put off investors

Whilst homeowners pause to think, buy-to-let investors remain confident in the property market. New figures from HMRC have shown that the number of investment property transactions has increased by 3% in the last quarter.

Michael Cook, Romans Lettings Director elaborates; "This figure from HMRC backs up what our own internal data is showing - in the first half of 2017, 1 in 4 of Romans' buyers was a buy-to-let investor."

It doesn't come as a surprise as many towns around the South East

By Romans Group

will soon benefit from the opening of Cross Rail and a number of town regeneration projects which will no doubt increase the demand for rental property."

The real concern for landlords is the increased risk of prosecution and fines, 40% of landlords surveyed by Direct Line for Business admitted to being nervous about failing to comply with the increasing amounts of complex legislation landlords must adhere to.

Michael adds: "Investors appear to have realised that the substantial returns on offer in the property market far outweigh the initial costs, including an increased stamp duty tariff."

The increased concern around prosecution and fines has led to an increase in landlords utilising our fully managed service, a trend seen across the country with the NLA reporting a 7% increase in the number of landlords using a letting agent."

A wanderer is on his way

By Josh Cox

COMIC Bill Bailey will be bringing his new show Larks in Transit to The Anvil in Basingstoke in the new year.

Larks in Transit will start at the end of January 2018 and will tour the length and breadth of the UK, finishing in June.

The tour is a compilation of travellers' tales and the general shenanigans of 20 years as a wandering comedian.

With musical virtuosity, surreal tangents and trademark intelligence, Bill tackles politics, philosophy and the pursuit of happiness.

Plus, he fashions a symphony from a ringtone, tells the real story of Old McDonald, and re-imagines the Stars and Stripes.

Bailey began his career touring the country in the 1980s. Over the past 30-plus years he has gained a huge amount of national praise and been described by the Daily Telegraph as 'the brainiest comic of his generation'.

Bill has enjoyed much success on the circuit for many years and won various awards including the British Comedy Award.

He has also performed at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival almost every year since his debut, Cosmic Jam, in 1995. His 1996 follow-up, Bill Bailey Live, earned him a nomination for the prestigious Perrier Award.

The Fringe has also seen Bill branch out as a dramatic actor, firstly in a well-received production of 12 Angry Men, as the restrained Juror 4, then two years later as the slouchy, unkempt Oscar in the equally acclaimed The Odd Couple.

Pronounced by The Guardian Guide as 'approaching the status of national treasure', he is well known for his role in Black Books and for his regular appearances on Never Mind the Buzzcocks, Have I Got News for You and QI, as well as his extensive stand-up work.

For your chance to see Bill, head to The Anvil on March 7.

Tickets cost £29.50. To book, call the box office on 01256 844244 or visit anvilarts.org.uk.

Laughter is in the Ayres

By Josh Cox

WRITER and presenter Pam Ayres brings her show to Basingstoke on September 24.

Pam has been making the nation laugh for more than 40 years with her poems, which capture her eye for the detail of everyday life and its absurdity.

Pam is now as popular as ever and is one of the few authors who has had books in the Sunday Times bestseller charts in almost every decade since the 1970s.

In 2015, once again, the most borrowed poetry book in UK Libraries was Pam's 'You Made Me Late Again'.

She is the author of several best-selling poetry collections, and many of her poems are included in school textbooks around the world.

As well as her poetry, Pam also has two audio CDs, two DVDs and a biography to her name.

Pam was awarded an MBE in the Queen's Birthday Honours of 2004 and was commissioned by the BBC to write a poem to celebrate Team GB's success at the Rio Olympics.

She is fairly local to the area, being born in Berkshire.

Her life in the limelight began after she won the talent show Opportunity Knocks in 1975. Since then, she has grown to be one of the UK's most famous modern day poets.

She regularly appears on television and often broadcasts on BBC Radio 4, including on Just A Minute, Loose Ends and Saturday Live, and her own programme Ayres on the Air.

She continues to tour venues around the country each year and has also performed for the Queen on several occasions.

Tickets for An Evening with Pam Ayres are £23.50. The show starts at 5pm at The Anvil on Sunday, September 24.

For more information or for tickets, call the Anvil Arts box office on 01256 844244, or visit the website anvilarts.org.uk.

Introducing Matt & Sam at Longlife Custom Exhausts

Longlife Exhausts are the UK's leading supplier of custom built stainless steel exhausts. Longlife's franchise at Fastfit service Centre is now in it's 11th year.

The guys based at Moniton Trading Estate, Basingstoke have a wealth of knowledge on these custom exhaust systems.

Matt has been with Fastfit Service Centre for over 12 years but has been specialising in custom exhausts on just about any car you can think of for just over 15 years.

Sam has recently joined Matt's Longlife team and has his own ramp to work from to ensure they can both turn at least two full systems around every day.

A bespoke Longlife exhaust means you can choose from over 200 tailpipe designs, the noise level you desire and where you want the pipe to start from on the car – this could be from the manifold, the catalytic converter or just a backbox.

The new system you choose can be built by hand or by the pressure bending machines that are on site and can be done within 1 day. Running a Longlife exhaust on your car will ensure you get a better performance, more BHP and a lifetime warranty on the exhaust parts and fitting. We can also re-map your vehicle too. Contact us for more details.

Peugeot 508 SW GT Line BlueHDi 120 Auto

Good all rounder and not bad looking

By Tony Yates

THIS month's road test puts me in the driving seat of the Peugeot 508 SW GT Line. On first appraisal the 508 SW is a great looking estate with some wonderful swooping lines.

This takes me back to when designers actually tried to make a car look different by not copying what the next guy was doing – also judging by the look of the SW – they have managed to push the 'good looking' envelope that little bit more – whilst designing a pretty sweet looking estate – that even the most hard lined Volvo estate buyer would find difficult to ignore.

Of course, it's all done on super computers today and there's probably not a single pencil in sight. But, I would still like to think that a bunch of designers got together one evening in the local pub and really thrashed out what a good looking estate car should look like.

Well judging by what I have seen so far, I think they might have just made the 508 pretty much perfect in that department.

On the road

It's quite firm into the corners – but very well balanced. As you would expect for a GT, it's set very low and when you add low profile tyres at each corner – you start to feel every single bump and pothole, but it is what it is – and that's something that comes with running large rims with performance tyres.

Power & efficiency

The 508 SW I had on test was powered by a 1560cc diesel engine that has 120BHP on tap, which also happens to boast a very respectable top speed of 123mph, plus a 0-62 time of 11.2 seconds. Fuel consumption is also very good with a combined figure of 67.3 mpg.

A big plus point for this car though is its 300Nm of torque which allows it to pull very well from pretty much any gear thanks to a brilliant 6 speed automatic gearbox that does a proper job of changing up and down the gears at a decent rate with minimal fuss. Then there are the brakes, which feel good and firm and will stop you as good as the best of the best.

Interior & technology

The interior is of a good standard – with lots of chrome fittings and clear dials. But, you are also getting good value for money in terms of standard equipment like; ABS/ESP/EBA, driver & front passenger front and side airbags, iPod/MP3 connection, LED daytime running lights, air conditioning, six speakers, steering wheel-mounted audio control and parking sensors.

Additionally on the inside you also get a tidy amount of media equipment to keep you happy like; The Peugeot Media Sound System which includes a 7" multifunction colour touchscreen with satellite navigation, DAB radio tuner and Bluetooth audio with USB connectivity. There is also the addition of 'GT Line' extra's like; 18" GT Line alloy wheels, full LED headlamps, twin exhaust effect trims and half leather trim with red stitch detail.

Performance, power and hi-tech make this Peugeot estate one to check out

To sum up

I'm going to give the 508 SW four stars in this test, not only because I like its looks, but because I believe it's a good family estate car with bags of extras and a decent engine that's tied to a pretty good automatic gearbox.

Local derby could decide title

By Matthew Brown

A TWO-WICKET victory for Basingstoke and North Hampshire Cricket Club (BNHCC) away against Titchbourne Park on Saturday means they will need to win their final Southern League Division One game against local rivals Hook and Newnham Basics to stand any chance of sealing the title.

The Bountymen won the toss and elected to field, with Martyn James making early inroads when he dismissed opening batsman George Ayling for four.

Titchbourne recovered with Pradeeptha Gunaratne (25) and Hector Don (13) adding 40 for the second wicket.

It was spinner Matt Thankachan (4-20) who ripped into the home side's top order, first removing Gunaratne who was caught by Max Harsham before William Phillips caught Don.

Thankachan then dismissed Martin Cheyney (20) and Henry Don (19), both caught and bowled to leave Titchbourne 92-5.

Captain Mitch Stokes brought himself on to bowl and took a wicket shortly after when Thomas Allam was caught by Phillips for four, to leave the home side 94-6.

Jack Skinner, who finished on 19 not out, was the only notable score from the tail as Titchbourne were all out for 136 from 45 overs.

In reply, Max Harsham (8) was the first Basingstoke batsman to fall when he nicked behind to Henry Don off the bowling of Hector Don.

Fellow opener Daniel Belcher fell for 15 soon after, caught by William Allam off Thomas Allam's bowling.

Mitch Stokes (17), Chris Froud (15) and William Phillips (14) all got into double figures but could not go on to make bigger scores, and once Phillips had been dismissed, Basingstoke were 83-6.

Both Allams had caused significant damage, Thomas taking 2-47 and William with 3-13.

However player/coach David Griffiths (23), together with Chris Jolley (23) stabilised the Bountymen, getting them to 124 before Griffiths was bowled by Edward Berry.

Matt Thankachan impressed with the ball for the Bountymen

Jolley departed shortly after but Thankachan (6 not out) and Martyn James (0 not out) saw BNHCC home inside 31 overs.

With leaders Calmore Sports running out with a four-wicket victory against Rowledge, giving them an 18-point lead, the Bountymen must pick up a victory on Saturday against Hook in the local derby and hope that Calmore lose against Portsmouth.

Sport Bites

First defeat

FOOTBALL: Hartley Wintney's unbeaten start to life in the Southern League Division One East came to an end with a 3-0 away defeat at Marlow.

The Row were well beaten by Marlow, who scored their goals through Allen Bosman, Issac Osei-Tutu and Jordace Holder-Spooner.

They will have some respite from the league though as they make the short trip to the Camrose to play Basingstoke Town in the FA Cup first qualifying round on Saturday.

Calleva on form

FOOTBALL: Tadley Calleva continued their unbeaten start in the Wessex League Division One with a 3-0 away victory at Downton.

Goals from Brett Denham, Archie Fawcett and Paul Coventy all netted to take Calleva to third in the table.

Elsewhere in the same league, Whitchurch United claimed their first win of the season with a 2-1 home victory over East Cowes.

Goals from Jack Ormiston and David Palmer secured the points for the Jam Boys.

Whitchurch and Tadley then faced each other on Tuesday night, with Tadley coming out on top with a 5-0 win.

County in finals

CRICKET: Hampshire will head to t20 Finals Day at Edgbaston on Saturday in confident mood after comfortably defeating Derbyshire by 101 runs in last week's quarter final.

A sensational 101 from Shahid Afridi helped Hampshire to their highest ever t20 score of 249-8 before Liam Dawson (3-28) and Kyle Abbott (3-25) picked up key wickets as Derbyshire were all out for 148.

Hampshire will face Nottinghamshire in their semi final, with the winner going on to play the winners of Birmingham and Glamorgan in the first semi.

Collard's title hopes dented after crash

ROB Collard lost ground in his fight for the British Touring Car Championship title after recording his first non-points finishes of the year at Rockingham on Sunday.

The Hook-based racer could only manage eighth place in race two, having finished just outside the points in 17th in the day's opener to end his long sequence of top-15 results.

Collard looked as though he may be able to claw back some ground in race three, and had got his BMW up to fourth place.

Challenging Jack Goff the final podium place late in the race, Collard got his car alongside but the two collided, and the BMW driver was pitched into the barriers to bring his day to a dramatic close.

"I'm disappointed with the weekend because I've only scored eight points, which now makes winning the championship extremely difficult," said Collard.

"Race one was tough on the hard tyre and with a lot of ballast, but to come from 17th to eighth in race two was very strong.

"I think a podium was on in race three, but unfortunately I had some contact late in the race and had to retire."

Collard stays fourth in the standings but is now 58 points behind series leader Ashley Sutton, with two rounds remaining.

Silverstone is the next event on September 17, before the season finale at Brands Hatch on October 1.

Improvement in form as Rose fights back into the top-10

JUSTIN Rose secured his first top-10 finish on the PGA Tour since the Masters back in April after a consistent display in The Northern Trust.

The north Hampshire golfer was one of seven players to finish on four under par in a tie for 10th place, after sitting in contention towards the top of the leaderboard for most of the tournament.

Rose had a steady first round to finish two under on Thursday, and although he matched that score on Friday it could have been a lot better.

He had been four under for the round approaching the 15th hole, but a bogey and double bogey undid most of his hard work, although he did pull a shot back on 17.

A third round 69 put Rose on five under for the tournament going into the final day, seven behind day three leader Jordan Spieth.

But having reached the final hole on level par for the day, Rose bogeyed the last to drop back a shot and have to settle for a share of 10th.

Despite that, it was still Rose's best result on the PGA Tour since he finished as the runner-up at the Masters.

At the top of the table, Dustin Johnson beat Spieth in a play-off to take the title.

Lucky 13 for Basingstoke after two stunning wins

By Matthew Brown

BASINGSTOKE Town kick-started their Evo-Stik Southern League campaign in spectacular style, scoring 13 goals in the process of their two wins against Chesham United and Gosport Town over the bank holiday weekend.

Braces from Ben Wright and Aaron Jarvis along with Sam Smart helped the Dragons to a 5-0 thrashing of Chesham United at the Camrose on Saturday.

That was followed with a dominant 8-0 away demolition of Gosport Borough on Monday, to complete a dramatic turnaround for a side that had lost their opening three games.

Against Chesham, Wright opened the scoring after just six minutes when he slotted in Smart's cross.

The striker was celebrating again just after the half-hour mark when he converted from the penalty spot, after Smart was fouled in the box.

Chesham, who had created very little in the first half, saw Shane Bush's header slam against the bar just before half-time.

Immediately after the break, Chesham spurned good chances to get a foothold back into the game, but this just jolted Basingstoke back into life.

Jarvis made it 3-0 on 57 minutes when he slotted home Wright's pass before he scored again four minutes later, finishing superbly from Michael Atkinson's cross.

It was 5-0 with 15 minutes still to play when the impressive Smart fired home from Charlie Kennedy's back heel.

Town continued where they left off when they made the trip to Gosport.

Wright continued his form to open the scoring after two minutes when he nodded in a Michael Atkinson cross, with Smart doubling the lead on 16 minutes when he pounced on a defensive mix-up to tap in.

Former Gosport man Wright scored Basingstoke's third from the penalty spot, giving them a comfortable lead going into half-time.

The rout continued just three minutes after the interval with Smart grabbing his second after cutting his way through the Gosport defence, to make it 4-0.

New signing Jack McKnight made it five when he converted from fellow sub Ashleigh Artwell's cross, before Edward Sanders put through his own net to make it 6-0.

Dan Collier added a seventh on 78 minutes, with McKnight completing the demolition in stoppage time, moving the Dragons up to 14th in the Southern Premier League.

Next up is a home derby with Hartley Wintney in the FA Cup first qualifying round on Saturday.
